Cite E. 23rd in legislation

In an effort to prevent the type of "blatant violations of motorists' rights" said to occur frequently at area railroad crossings, State Rep. Everett Steele (R-Glen Carbon) has introduced legislation that would substantially stiffen penalties against railroads that repeatedly block traffic.

"Currently, state law prohibits any train from blocking an intersection for more than ten minutes," Rep. Steele said. "But as people in the 56th District can attest, that law is virtually being ignored."

"Because I believe lengthy blockages of train crossings are more than an inconvenience, but a health, safety and property hazard as well, I have sponsored legislation that will return the right-of-way on our roads and highways to motorists."

Steele explained that blocked crossings are especially frequent in the Quad-City area on Highway 162 at East 23rd Street.

"A union steward from Granite City Steel recently told me he is stopped by trains at that intersection about 50 percent of the time when traveling to and from work. He said that many times he is held up for as long as 45 minutes," Steele added.

The situation is extremely hazardous because crossing is a main access entry to the St. Elizabeth Medical Center trauma center," the 56th District lawmaker said. "We've been lucky not to have had a disaster in the past caused when emergency vehicles are blocked by trains at that intersection."

"I don't believe we should trust the lives of persons in our area to continued luck in the future."

Rep. Steele reported that many employees in his district have complained to him about being detained at blocked crossings while traveling to work, and being blocked in pay for being late.

"Obviously, something must be done to halt the needless string of violations local residents have been forced to endure," he said. "That is why I have introduced this legislation to toughen the penalties against railroads continually blocking crossings."

The Steele-sponsored proposal provides that trains blocking an intersection for more than ten minutes would be subject to a fine of between $500 and $1,000. If the blockage exceeds 15 minutes, a $500 fine for each additional minute could be levied.

Steele urged citizens who have had serious traffic problems and delays at railroad crossings to write to him at 2073 Stratton Office Building, Springfield, Ill. 62706. He said the information will be helpful during hearings on the proposal in the next few weeks.

"I hope this legislation will put some teeth into a law that has lacked bite for many years," Rep. Steele said.

"Residents of the 56th District—and cities across the entire state—have watched gross violations occur at rail crossings for too long. If this bill is approved in the General Assembly, the public will finally be treated more fairly."

Tuition up

The Southern Illinois University Board of Trustees on Thursday approved tuition increases at all campuses of the university, effective with the fall terms. The meeting was in Carbondale.

Basically, the increases follow recommendations proposed by the Illinois Board of Higher Education (IBHE) on Jan. 9.

At SIU at Edwardsville, the increase for full-time students is $48 per academic year for resident undergraduates and $64 per academic year for resident graduates. The in-

Showdown on Barton Wednesday

Assessing procedures and their fairness or unfairness will be the topic at 7 p.m. Wednesday at the Madison County Courthouse in Edwardsville as the County Board participates in a special meeting.

The meeting will be open to the public but the board is likely to go into executive session if there is an effort to fire Assessment Supervisor James Nelson, County Board Chairman Nelson Hagnauer said Friday. He listened to but disagreed with the anti-Barton views of a delegation of eastern county taxpayers.

Board members will review the subject of property taxation with Barton and the three-member Board of Review.

Among the questions will be the extent of Review Board reliance on certificates of error to adjust valuations, at the time tax bills are being sent out, instead of adjustments through hearings, when assessments are issued the previous year.

Pontoon blocked, engineer arrested

By VALERIE EVENDEN
Press-Record Staff Writer

Some motorists barred from access over the West Pontoon railroad tracks—when crossing gates were lowered for a lengthy period at 8:40 a.m. Friday—stayed around to witness an unusual sight, the arrest and escorting to jail of the train engineer.

Police Sergeant Glenn Wright was advised by a patrolling officer that traffic was congested at the crossing and went to the scene. He discovered two apparently abandoned train engines, with no crew members inside nor anywhere to be seen in the vicinity.

The engines, without cars, had been left about 100 feet north of the crossing on the southbound tracks. Sgt. Wright said Norfolk and Western Railroad was notified about the situation and was told a police vehicle was being parked across the middle set of tracks and would remain in place until the gates were raised or the train crew found.

No other trains approached the crossing while the squad car was across the tracks. Whether rail traffic had been halted by the company was unknown.

At 9:08 a.m. Friday, the train crew returned to the engines, coming across the road from the direction of the International House of Pancakes, Nameoki and Pontoon roads, where they allegedly had been eating breakfast.

The engineer, Gary K. Martin, 30, of Mount Zion, Ill., climbed into the engine cab but was asked to get down.

He was then taken to police headquarters under arrest on a charge of obstructing a railroad grade crossing.

A representative of Norfolk and Western Railway went to the station about 10 a.m. Friday and posted a $50 cash bond for the engineer, who was released at 10:30 a.m.

May-June filming here

By MICK STRANGE
Press-Record Staff Writer

Warner Brothers Television (WB-TV) moviemakers were back at Madison's Chain of Rocks Bridge Thursday in preparation for the making of a major "disaster-action film."

The production manager, a photographer and an engineer went to the unused bridge with Madison Chief of Police Donald Bridick.

According to Bridick, the film makers were taking still photos, which they will use to construct bridge models for use in the film.

The moviemakers also checked the railing to find a section where they could remove the real railing and replace it with a false one, for a car to go through and plunge into the river.

Bridick was informed that most of the film will be shot from cameras placed at the top of the bridge superstructure and from a barge in the Mississippi River.

The actual filming will start in late May or early June, provided the necessary contracts and insurance policies are approved by the Madison City Council.

Madison Mayor Mike Sasyk said Thursday nothing in writing has been submitted as yet.

The four-hour television film will be titled, "The Night the Bridge Fell Down."

The plot involves seven cars that become isolated in the middle of the bridge, as the bridge starts to fall apart, steel girder by steel girder.

The film company will be using exact-scale models of the bridge, in addition to filming on the bridge itself. The bridge, of course, will only collapse in the movie, not in reality.

The producer is Irwin Allen, who has made several major disaster films. Nearly a year was spent in finding "the right" bridge for the movie, according to the producer.

'Involvement' rising

In less than a decade, death education has made great strides in transforming the American attitude toward death from aversion to involvement.

This observation on the "phenomenal" growth of death awareness in the 1970s is made by Robert Fulton, professor of sociology and director of the Center for Death Education and Research, University of Minnesota.

Professor Fulton is the national coordinator of Courses by Newspaper's spring series "Death and Dying: Challenge and Change" that will begin appearing weekly in the Press-Record starting next week.

"Heightened consciousness has created a desire to be part of solving problems associated with death and dying," Professor Fulton explains.

"Some Americans now are putting into practice what they have learned through death education by volunteering at a hospice, taking care of the dying at home, and publicly expressing their private feelings about death."

Striking evidence of this change is found in institutions closest to the millions of Americans affected annually by death—hospitals, organized religions, and the news media, according to Professor Fulton.

"Hospitals are more attentive to the needs of dying patients and of the professionals who care for them," he says. "In an effort to maximize the aid available from the community, they also are more open to visitations by family and friends."

"In many churches, the rituals associated with death have been altered to allow more family par-

Superintendent of streets for the past eight years, Lionel Portell, 47, of 2840 Michigan Ave., is seeking re-election April 3, buoyed by overwhelming voter approval for continuation of the post as an elective office.

The referendum reversed City Council action intended to make the street position appointive.

Some aldermen were critical of his performance during the second term, and there has been renewed criticism of street work during the severe 1978-79 winter, but Portell attributes the difficulty to "an inadequate amount of

2 'painful years' ahead for SIUE; cost study assailed

The chairman of the joint subcommittee of the Illinois House of Representatives Appropriations Committee named to investigate proposed budget cuts at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville said Tuesday he has a number of concerns about the budgeting system being used by the Illinois Board of Higher Education (IBHE). Rep. Jim McPike (D-Alton) cited over four hours of testimony heard Monday on the SIUE campus.

He said the IBHE, which has recommended a $720,000 cut in SIUE's base budget primarily on the basis of normative cost studies, is "failing to recognize the unique characteristics of the university's mission and necessary mode of operation as a commuter institution in the second most populous region of Illinois."

McPike called the public hearing after learning that the IBHE had recommended the cut in SIUE's base budget, in addition to a cut of nearly $450,000 proposed through allocation of the governor's budget for higher education.

"Purpose of the hearing was to investigate the reasons behind these budget cuts and to make recommendations to the House Appropriations Committee," Rep. McPike said.

Testimony was presented at the hearing by Richard D. Wagner of Springfield, executive deputy director of the IBHE staff; President Kenneth A. Shaw of SIUE; and representatives of SIUE faculty groups as well as individuals.

McPike said the Bureau of the Budget also had been asked to be represented at the hearing.

Members of the faculty who testified included: R.N. Pendergrass, president of the SIUE chapter of the American Association of University Professors; Ron Bruno, chairman of the Planning Council of the University Senate; Tom Baldwin, past president of the Faculty Organization for

Granite group gets campaign going

The Get Granite Going (GGG) organization held a $15 per person fund-raising event at Charlie's Restaurant last week, attracting more than 125 persons.

The GGG group is backing Lionel Portell for re-election as superintendent of streets, and David Partney for the Granite City School Board and the following for city council seats — William Dallas Sr. in Ward One, incumbent Sam Whitmer in Ward Two, 3981st Herzing in Ward Three, incumbent Warren Decatur in Ward Four, incumbent Margaret Nomm in Ward Five and George Gordon in Ward Seven.

Master-of-ceremonies Leon Scroggins introduced officials at the event, including State Sen. Sam Vadabene, State Rep. Jim McPike, Madison County Sheriff Emil Toffant and County Treasurer Mick Henkhaus.

Supt. Portell said a lack of proper funding has been primarily responsible for poor performance by the department this winter. He noted that the City Council agreed during the weekend to give $15,000 more to accelerate the department's efforts to repair potholes and remove tree limbs from streets.

He said that while the extra funds are only temporary, "We have the vehicle now to deal with these problems. This is my goal. I am concerned for the people of Granite City."

Decatur said he feels GGG candidates will fare well in the April election, including those who have not run for office before. "I think this year you will see some new faces elected," he predicted.

Gordon said he doesn't feel the Seventh Ward has received its fair share of funding from the city, and cited motor fuel tax funds as an example.

"The city spent $400,000 in MFT funds for planning for an overpass and more for payrolls, which I oppose," he said, pledging he will work to see that the ward receives more consideration for funding in the future.

Herzing pledged he will be vocal in expressing the needs of the people of his ward, if elected, and stated, "I'm going to stand for the poor because the rich and powerful have their own spokesmen."

The candidate said he has campaigned door-to-door and has found that people believe they are getting poor service for their tax dollars.

The street department has been hampered because people have not called their aldermen and demanded sufficient funding for the street programs they want, he added.

Herzing opposed "doubling the sewer tax" for treatment, saying it will have an adverse effect on senior citizens and those on fixed incomes. He agreed that an increase is needed, but said he would support only a $3 to $4 per quarter increase, instead of the scheduled change from $6 to $13.

He also pledged he will support "fair pay raises" for police and firemen, having been a policeman himself for eight years.

Joe McGinness, aldermanic candidate for the second ward, also was invited to speak. Although he does not have the GGG endorsement, McGinness said he is a newcomer to politics and will appreciate all support given to him.

Leslie Thompson is christened

Leslie Ann Thompson, 7-week-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Thompson, 3928 Village Lane, was christened last week at St. Cecilia Catholic Church in Glen Carbon.

The Rev. William Stanley officiated at the service.

Godparents for the infant were an uncle, Richard Dushman, and an aunt, Carol Gilmore.

After the christening service, a buffet dinner was served by the maternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Ray Gilmore, at their home.

Among the guests were the infant's sister, Lisa Marie, two years old; Mr. and Mrs. Robert Thompson, grandparents; Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Hall, Mrs. Sam Caruso and Mrs. Scott E. Thompson, great-grandparents; Pat Gilmore, Judith Dushman and Gwen Gilmore, Aunts; Dennis Gilmore, uncle; and Johnny McGinness, and those previously mentioned.

GET GRANITE GOING political candidates are introduced during a fund-raising dinner last week at Charlie's Restaurant. From left are: George Gordon, Seventh Ward aldermanic candidate; Lionel Portell, seeking re-election as superintendent of streets; Mrs. Margaret Nomm, running for re-election as Fifth Ward alderman; Dan Partney, GGG chairman; Warren Decatur, seeking re-election as Fourth Ward alderman; and Willard Herzing, a candidate for alderman in the Third Ward. Also on the GGG slate but not able to attend were William Dallas Sr., a First Ward candidate, and incumbent Alderman Sam Whitmer of the Second Ward.

Arrest 2 after scuffle

Leonard Johnson, 28, of 2214 Missouri Ave., was charged with state charges of resisting a police officer, driving on a suspended driver's license, attempting to elude police and speeding (49 miles per hour in a 30 mph zone) and with a city charge of not having a city sticker after an incident last week.

Richard L. McCallister, 27, of 2233 Washington Ave., also was charged with obstructing a police officer.

Granite City Patrolman Jerry Duncan alleged he timed Johnson's pickup truck on radar at 49 mph and followed the truck to Johnson's home, where he ignored a yell from the officer and went inside the house, leaving McCallister in the truck.

Duncan said he asked McCallister to go inside and get the driver and he complied. When Johnson came to the front door of the house, he allegedly told Duncan it was not his truck and he had not been driving it. When told he was under arrest, Duncan allegedly wrestled with Duncan in the house.

Duncan put his police cap on the floor to get handcuffs out and alleged McCallister picked up the cap and refused to drop it.

Duncan said he then got up and radioed on his walkie-talkie for additional officers. Johnson got up and approached him, he said, so Duncan drew his service revolver and ordered the men to stop. McCallister then dropped the cap, Duncan reported.

Johnson allegedly still refused to go outside, so when other officers arrived force was used to handcuff him and both men were arrested.

He concluded, "We must find better ways to make institutional comparisons."

This year and next year are going to be painful to this university community in many, many ways."

Citing new directions and programs in the future which will come about through reallocation of resources, the SIUE president said, "This is, essentially, expansion without growth. But it is absolutely mandatory if we are to fulfill our regional mission."

WORKSHOP WEDNESDAY
Illinois Department of Local Government Affairs Director J. Thomas Johnson has announced a workshop on "Risk Management Insurance" Wednesday, March 14, in Collinsville at the Holiday Inn. The 8:30 a.m. to 5 p.m. workshop is open to all local government officials and their staffs in the Southwestern Illinois area. A seminar will be held there April 25 on collective bargaining.

Members of the faculty expressed universal opposition to the proposed budget cuts, opposition to the normative cost data used by the IBHE, and support for salary increases based on the cost-of-living. The faculty members also urged more long-range planning with opportunities for their participation in the process.

"It works to the detriment of those that are below the average. In our case, we are 45,000 below the average," Dr. Shaw also addressed the effect of the budget cuts on the university and discussed some of the administration's planning for the future.

He said, "Any losses we will have to take will hurt. Primarily, it will be felt by those who will see incomes shrinking before cost-of-living rises."

"Our students will not only be faced with rising costs in commuting and basic living expenses, but also the projected rises in tuition and fees."

"This year and next year are going to be painful to this university community in many, many ways."

Citing new directions and programs in the future which will come about through reallocation of resources, the SIUE president said, "This is, essentially, expansion without growth. But it is absolutely mandatory if we are to fulfill our regional mission."

NEW BRUSH PICKUPS STARTING IN CITY

Lionel Portell, superintendent of streets, has announced that brush pickup crews, having covered the city, will begin a new sweep this week. The crews will start in West Granite and continue until they have covered the entire city again.

They will be picking up limbs and brush. Residents are being asked to stack the debris near the curb, being careful not to block the street or sidewalk.

related to the 1977 tax year (collection in 1978). The summer's tax payments will be based on levies and valuations of the 1978 tax year.

The hearing process has involved a heavy volume in some years, with time and funds running out. As practiced, the certificate method has enabled adjustments to continue after the hearings.

The certificates also enable correction of errors not detected until tax bills have been received many months after the basic assessing decisions. The summer's tax payments will be based on levies and valuations of the 1978 tax year.

At SIU at Carbondale, tuition will be increased $50 per academic year for both undergraduate and graduate students, while the rate for School of Medicine students will be increased $362. Of the latter increase, $266 represents implementation of the third and final phase of IBHE's tuition proposals of two years ago.

Board members indicated unanimous disdain for the necessity of tuition increases but said they felt the university repairs would require.

Citing "serious and dangerous" northwest wall problems, Sheriff Emil Tofant is seeking approval Wednesday night for immediate jail repairs despite the fact that a new county jail is being built. About 30 prisoners are to be transferred elsewhere during the two to four weeks that the current cost estimate of the proposed new jail, which is $491 million. Testimony before appropriations panels Feb. 22 had set the cost at $690 million.

Granite City and Edwardsville tax collectors threaten County Treasurer Mick Henkhaus last week they plan to continue making payments to taxing bodies.

The treasurer has asked to make such payments not only for the 12 townships where he collects taxes, but also in the 12 where collectors are active.

A new Madison County legal opinion recommends that future error certificates be ratified through court acknowledgment. It is currently being interpreted as not requiring that past certificates be referred for court approval.

Main opposition to past methods is expected from Republicans on the County Board, which has a Democratic majority. But some of the GOP members indicate they agree with Hagnauer that Barton should be retained, and say they will be satisfied if revised procedures are followed in the future.

Hagnauer conferred for 15 minutes Friday with about 25 members of a protest group unhappy with Barton and with assessment multipliers applied to some of the rural townships. Hagnauer commented, "No board member has said he should be relieved of his job. He has been criticized unjustly at times."

Survivors include her husband, Lawrence S. Shmith; two daughters, Mrs. Timothy (Julia) Moore, New Orleans, La., and Mrs. Robert (Elizabeth) Hutchinson, Granite City and one son, Steven ShmDH, Granite City.

Funeral services were held today. Details are given in the obituary column.

MR. AND MRS. DAVID de la TORRE were united in marriage Feb. 3 at St. Mary's Catholic Church in Madison. She is the former Miss Alison Marie Baker, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Walter E. Baker, 1723 Third St., Madison.

Alison Baker marries David de la Torre

St. Mary's Catholic Church in Madison was the scene of the Feb. 3 marriage of Miss Alison Marie Baker, 1723 Third St., Madison, to David de la Torre.

The former Miss Baker is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Walter E. Baker, 1723 Third St., Madison. Her husband is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Guillermo de la Torre, Los Angeles, Calif.

Father Conrad Motola officiated at the double-ring ceremony before an altar decorated with white pom-pom chrysanthemums, at 10:30 a.m.

James Havranek provided the music to include "Never My Love," "Sunrise, Sunset," "Traditional Wedding March," "Ave Maria," and "Cherish."

The bride wore a formal length white gown of Nottingham lace fashioned with a scoop neckline edged with Venice lace, and accented by large scalloped-edged lace ruffles that covered her shoulders.

Her A-line skirt ended in a ruffled flounce at the hemline. She wore a Spanish-style mantilla veil of silk tulle, trimmed with matching lace and applied lace flowers. She carried an arm bouquet of red silk roses and baby breath.

The maid of honor, Miss Denise Ann Baker, a sister of the bride, chose a light aqua two-piece gown. The jacket was trimmed with a ruffle at the neckline, and had a peplum at the waist.

Bridesmaid Rita Alane Baker, another sister of the bride, wore a similarly styled gown of light blue polyester, trimmed in marabou at the neckline and had a peplum at the waist.

Both attendants held arm bouquets of silk roses and baby breath in their hair.

The groom chose Stephen Putz as best man, Leonard A. Lelienowski, a cousin of the bride, served as groomsman, and John N. Gagich, was usher.

A reception was held following the ceremony at Engelbert Hall in Madison.

The bride is in the United States Army, stationed at Ft. Belvoir, Va., in the Communications Center. Her husband serving with the military police at Ft. Belvoir. They are residing in Alexandria, Va.

Flower gardens meeting topic

The Granite City Homemakers Unit met last week at Nameoki United Presbyterian Church at noon. The meeting was opened by Chairman Wilma Owca with the pledge to the flag repeated by the group.

She welcomed the members and three guests. The major lesson for the afternoon was given by Lanell Lesseg on home flower gardening.

It was announced that Alma Beckman, first vice-chairman and Ann Pare, Publicity chairman, will attend the Illinois Homemakers Extension Federation annual meeting at the University of Illinois, Champaign-Urbana March 20-22.

A dessert luncheon was served by the hostesses Freddie McElroy, Marie Johnson, and Anna Michels. A St. Patrick's Day theme was carried out in their table decorations in green and white. A white decorated cake surrounded by shamrocks centered the table, and was observed of Mrs. Michel's birthday.

A game was played and many Evalyn Yenchow won a prize. The afternoon prize went to Olivia Bergschneider.

Attending were Mesdames Bernice Johannigmeier, Anna Palisgrove, Mary Zikovich, Laura Travis, Hazel Cline, Hilda Griffith, Helen Parks, Martha Taylor, Madge Ramsey, Toni Lynch, Josephine Uram, Florence Simpson, Martha McIlvoy, Bessie Grasso, and three guests, Vivian Byer, Mary Evalyn Yenchow, and Adele Wasylak.

Florence Simpson was appointed to serve as unit secretary to replace Mrs. Mary Blankenship who has moved from the area.

LION'S MANE CHARTER

A domestic corporation charter has been issued to Lion's Mane, Ltd., by Secretary of State Alan J. Dixon. President of the corporation is Frederick T. McColgan, 3717 Nameoki Road. Charters are McColgan and John D. Bell. Listed are 1,000 shares of common stock with a par value of $10. The corporation offers personal services.

MR. AND MRS. PHILLIP HAYES were united in marriage Feb. 17 at Community Heights Assembly of God Church. She is the former Patricia Ann Colp, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Bueler of California.

Patricia Colp weds Phillip Ray Hayes

Patricia Ann Colp became the bride of Phillip Ray Hayes Feb. 17 in an afternoon ceremony at Community Heights Assembly of God Church. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Bueler of California. The groom is the son of Dorothy Hayes, 2819 Marshall Ave.

The Rev. Bob Camp officiated at the double ring ceremony at 12 noon.

Bethel hosts Masonic Night

"Masonic Night" was observed by Bethel 43, Order of Job's Daughters, at a meeting held last week at the Masonic Temple, and conducted by Queen Tracy Dimock.

Members of Masonic lodge 877 introduced and escorted included Bill Sternberg, senior deacon, Robert Pritchard, junior deacon, and Gene Fox, Jerry Grasso, and Kenneth Watts.

Also presented were Miss Robin McBee, past queen of Bethel 43 and honorary state guide, Miss Michelle Root, past queen of the Bethel, Mrs. Rebecca Slate, guardian and grand second messenger, and Martin Love, associate guardian and grand outer guard.

Reports on past activities were submitted by Tracy Dimock, Les Ann Baker, Gena Fox, Rhonda Baker, Robin McBee and Mrs. Slate.

Plans for forthcoming events were discussed and arrangements for a trip to Chicago in April were disclosed.

Refreshments were served by the Mothers Club after the session in the downstairs dining room.

Happy Group Club set pot luck meet

The Happy Group Senior Citizen Club will meet Thursday afternoon at the Granite City Township Hall at 1:30 p.m. It will be a pot luck dinner, and all members are being asked to bring their own table service, it was announced.

The group met earlier at the hall and Delbert McKissick, president, opened the meeting with prayer. After the business meeting, refreshments were served to 25 members. Games were played and a prize went to Mamie Lane.

DEBBIE ENGELMANN PLEDGES SORORITY

Debbie Engelmann, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Weidner, 1916 Joy Ave., has pledged to Zeta Psi Lambda Sorority at Central Methodist College at Fayette, Mo.

A freshman majoring in special education, Miss Engelmann was named to the dean's list at the school for the fall quarter. She also serves as a basketball cheerleader, and graduated last year from Granite City High School South.

Mrs. Ann Geise entertains club

Members of the July 12 Card Club met Thursday in the home of Mrs. Ann Geise, 1720 Venice Ave., and honored her on her birthday with a decorated cake and gifts.

The hostess served a noon brunch followed by an afternoon of games.

Those winning prizes were Mesdames Mabel Lehne, Katharine Smithson, Emma Steinberg, and Pauline Canham. Also attending were Mrs. Penny Ousley, Mrs. Pauline Stevens and a guest, Mrs. Creola Warnhoff. Mrs. Lehne will host the next meeting, it was announced.

Junior gardeners plan new events

The Fair Oaks Junior Garden Club met last week for a regular meeting with Mrs. Griffith in charge. Plans were discussed for a May bake sale.

After the meeting, a program on 15 ways to recycle newspaper was given by Mrs. Judy Donley, club advisor.

Refreshments were served by the hostess and her mother, Mrs. Pat McAmish to Joel, Jill and Julie Donley. Missy McAmish, Nancy Griffith and Clara Winter, club advisor.

The next meeting will be in the home of Julie Donley for the annual guest day on April 7.

Programs for handicapped

Bill Fever, president of the Breakfast Kiwanis, vice-president of the Machinists Union, were guest speakers at a meeting of the Parents for Special Education.

Fever explained that the Kiwanis raise money and put it back into the community through other organizations. The Breakfast Kiwanis have sent six local handicapped children to summer camp for the past two years. The funds come from two raising drives annually.

Redstone told of the importance of unions in U.S. society and of the many donations they give to other people. The Machinists local sent two handicapped children to camp and have helped provide transportation in the past two years.

In the business meeting, a vote was taken to move from the present location to Central Christian Church. Meetings are on the third Tuesday of the month at 7 p.m. Babysitting services will be provided and any children are welcome when the parents attend.

A report on new programs in local churches was given. Catholic churches have

Where you shop by name... not by number

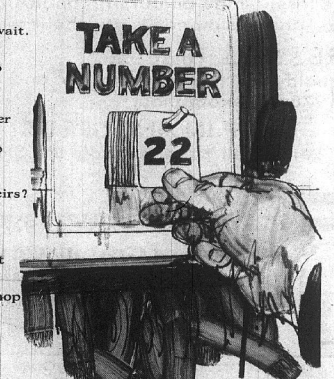

Rush, run and grab a number. Hurry up and wait.

Push, shove and push. Outshout noise and grab and go. Numbers are waiting.

Clerks couldn't remember your face tomorrow. Isn't it more fun to shop where businessmen and sales people know your name? And you know theirs?

When a hometown businessman says "We missed you," don't you sometimes secretly admit "I missed you, too?"

It's much more fun to shop where your business is appreciated.

Candidate assailing school meeting costs

David Partney, who has announced his candidacy for the Granite City School Board election to be held on April 14, has criticized present board members for expenditures of sorely needed funds for conventions and travel for administrators and board members.

Partney said he "denounces the expenditures at a time when the board knew or should have known that the economic situation of the district was in such a condition that it was necessary to consider and vote to close three schools in the district."

The candidate alleged the following "expenditures from recent months":

1. "Meeting: Don Stucke—Las Vegas, Oct. 27-29, 1978. Over $300.
2. "Convention—Chicago, Nov. 17-20, 1978. Saltich, Stucke, Miosky, Moore, Kraus, Huebner, Davis. In excess of $2,250.

3. "Conventions—Feb. 14, 17, 1978—New Orleans, La. Saltich, Stucke, Miosky, Davis. Cost of $2,242.
4. "Convention by two administrators—Houston, Tex. Feb. 22-25, 1978. Cost of $974.
5. "Advance registration for Miami convention, to be held April 21-24, 1979: five board members and administrators. Advance expenses of $900.
6. "Mr. Saltich and Mr. Huebner, Washington, D.C. Oct. 1-5, 1978. In excess of $900.
7. "Miscellaneous other travels by board members and administrators in excess of $2,000.

Partney concluded with his belief that "these expenditures are examples of grossly improper spending by the present board. I will list other improprieties during the campaign."

Computerized vocational data at North High

Computerized Vocational Information System is a new service for Granite City High School North students. It will provide personal, career, and vocational information.

The system will expand career guidance services and provide the guidance department with an opportunity to counsel interested students on their present high school subject needs and interests as they apply to post-high-school plans and decisions.

Students may request computerized information in the following areas: career interest quiz, high school quiz, career descriptions, local manpower reports, Belleville and other community college courses, four-year college courses, military occupations, and financial aid for education.

Students may request the area of appropriate to their needs. Each area provides an individualized print-out as requested for student use.

Each student will have unlimited use of the career vocational information system. Students must allow two weeks time for preparation of the requested individualized print-out by Belleville Area College.

This service is being offered through the cooperation of Roy McConkey, career and vocational placement counselor, and Mrs. Henry Beiser, North High counselor, who are assisting Mrs. Cynthia Hollinghead's senior English class to fill out computer requests for the CVIS Program.

4-H tours

Members of the 58'ers 4-H Club met at St. John's United Church of Christ, with 17 answering roll call, with the name of their boyfriend. One new member, Becky Gaines, and her mother, Mrs. Ray Gaines, were welcomed by President Gloria Milianis.

Secretary Nancy Dimitroff read the minutes and Treasurer Gina Graham gave a report of finances. Birthday greetings were extended to Nancy Dimitroff, Rebecca Groves, and Mrs. Ault. Nancy Dimitroff gave a report of the club's clothing tour to the Marlin Manning dress factory in Collinsville Feb. 12. Eight members and three mothers were part.

The club voted to hold a bake sale on Saturday, April 14, with the location and time to be announced at the April 5 mothers' tea. In addition to home-baked items, the members will include handicrafts and plants at their fund-raising project.

The teen group will take a trip to the Stretch N Sew center on March 17. Several members expressed interest in attending a spring fashion show as a group on Thursday, March 22, and others wishing to attend are to contact Mrs. Ault's home for advanced tickets.

Burglary of Woolworth's is charged

Gary Brazel, 20, of 2800 Saratoga Ave., was charged with burglary in an "informational document" issued by the Madison County state's attorney's office last week the result of a burglary in progress interrupted at Woolworth's Store, 1327 Nineteenth St., at 11:50 p.m. Monday.

Police were told the glass in a door was broken and officers checked and found signs the store had been entered. They searched the building and alleged finding Brazel on the second floor. He allegedly told officers he saw the broken glass and entered to see if anyone was inside.

After investigating his entry, officers asked the state's attorney's office to authorize a burglary charge. Woolworth's officials said an $80 stereo and a $70 pair of speakers were missing.

Bond was set at $1,002 cash and he was ordered held for authorities in Polk County, Ark., who said they have an assault warrant on file.

ENTER BEAUTY SHOP
About $3 in small change and a key are the only things known missing from Cut 'N Curl Beauty Shop, a Nankeski Village Shopping Center, last week. A piece of concrete was thrown through the front plate glass window and entry was believed gained by climbing through the hole. Drawers and closets were searched and a soda drink machine was forced open but change was left inside.

Two members, Kelly Ault and Gina Graham, have been selected to attend a junior leaders conference at the DuBois Center near Nashville, Ill., March 30 and 31. Marta Ault led recreation and refreshments were served by Catherine Dimitroff, Julie Malherok and Marilyn Malherok.

Talks were given by Gina Graham on planning daily food requirements; Gloria Milianis on milk and eggs as essential parts of a diet; Catherine Dimitroff on preventing kitchen accidents; Julie Malherok, "A Word About Pots and Pans"; and Kelly Ault, "Factors That Influence Yeast Breads."

Wendy Knollman gave a demonstration on cinnamon toast and Cyndi Brown demonstrated deviled eggs.

Next regular meeting will be on Thursday, April 5, at which time the teen group will provide refreshments for all the club members and their mothers. Talks are to be given by Beth Hein, Paula Bills, Cyndi Brown, Melissa Groves and Michelle Stockton. Demonstrations will be given by Kelly Ault, Gloria Milianis, Kathy Zinn, Karen Spencer, Gina Graham, Julie Malherok, Sarah Pascoe, Rebecca Groves and Shannon Kennedy.

Stratton heads U.S. school administrators

Olin W. Stratton, superintendent of schools in Highland since 1968, will be installed as president of the American Association of School Administrators on Saturday, March 17.

Installation ceremonies will be conducted in the multi-purpose room of Highland High School by the retiring president, Dr. Norman R. Hall of the Dallas Independent School District. Members of the 1979-80 executive committee who will attend include president-elect Dr. Richard Miller, Elkhart, Ind., vice-president Dr. William G. Stevenson, Seattle, Dr. Gale T. Barlow, Blue Springs, Mo., Dr. June Gabler, Romulus, Mich., Dr. Lloyd Nielson, Roseville, Minn., Dr. William B. Royster, Anderson, S.C., Dr. John G. Stuart, Aurora, Colo., Dr. Hugo Watson, Hanover, N.H., and Dr. Dana P. Whitmer, Pontiac, Mich.

AASA has a membership of more than 19,000 school administrators from all over the nation. National headquarters are in Arlington, Va. Stratton has been a member of AASA since 1968 and was chosen president-elect in 1978. He will be the eighth AASA president from Illinois. He has been a member of numerous national committees, including the

PISTOL IS TAKEN
An automatic pistol is the only thing known missing after a burglary at the home of Martha Swigert in the 2600 block of Pontoon Road last week. A window was opened to gain entry. The house was ransacked and stereo speakers were moved from the living room to a bedroom, but were left in the house. A blanket from the house was found outside a bedroom window.

Aid for million — expanded home care

Nearly one million needy Illinois residents will receive $2.4 billion in financial aid, medical assistance and social services under Governor James R. Thompson's 1979-80 fiscal year Department of Public Aid budget.

"This 6.6 percent increase results from a growth in the Medicaid program and an anticipated rise in the public aid caseload due to an expected economic downturn," Thompson said last week.

"The cost of medical care has increased an average of 13 percent annually since 1974. Medical assistance spending has more than kept pace with these increases, virtually doubling in six years despite a comparatively constant number of eligible persons.

"Expenditures for medical assistance will total $1.36 billion, up $167 million over 1978-79," the governor said. A $4.1 million increase, or 16 percent, in the department's social services budget will be devoted to expanded in-home care services to low-income persons and income assistance recipients. Begun this year, in cooperation with the Department on Aging, the program is intended to prevent institutionalization by providing home health care.

Thompson said the department will expand efforts to identify abuse and to recover fraudulent or erroneous payments in both the medical and income assistance programs, as well as emphasize reducing the ineligibility error rate. Specifically, the department will:

1. Expand the third-party liability recovery effort to help ensure that medical assistance is provided only when a recipient has not other means of payment.
2. Increase the staff of the Bureau of Program Integrity by 20 percent to 124, to increase investigations, monitor over-utilization by recipients and expand hospital and nursing home admissions.
3. Expand the staff working with medical vendors, recipient appeals, hearings and the food stamp program.

MARRIAGE LICENSE

A marriage license has been issued in St. Louis to A. J. Sarnowski, St. Louis, and P. L. Ropac, Granite City.

Two arrested in Wayside burglary

Odin G. Venable Jr., 26, of 2000 Thirteenth St., and Norman E. Galbraith, 30, of 2239 Delmar Ave., were charged with burglary in an informational document issued by the Madison County state's attorney's office Thursday afternoon.

Police alleged catching the two inside the Wayside Tavern building at 2160 Washington Ave., early that day. A silent burglar alarm summoned officers to the tavern and the first officer on the scene looked in a window and alleged seeing two men behind the bar, near the cash register.

Officers surrounded the building and a fire truck was requested for a ladder. Police then climbed to the second floor and entered the building through two possible entry areas. Lt. George Gallas and the volunteer David Polivick entered one door which Gallas broke open, and alleged finding one man attempting to climb out an opening to the rear stairway. They alleged it was Venable. Patrolman David Rosenberg and J. W. Apperson then climbed in another opening and alleged finding Galbraith hiding in a hole in the staircase. He was ordered out, but responded, "I can't get back that way. I'm too big," police said.

He was forced to lie on the floor at gunpoint while officers used another entrance to approach and arrest him, it was related. Police found a large screwdriver inside which may have been used to pry open two interior doors and gain access to the tavern area, officers said.

Both men appeared before a judge at 4:30 p.m. Thursday. Bond was set at $3,000 cash on each, and mittimus were issued.

Tragic toll of motorists who 'gamble'

By Trooper James G. Gallo

Many motorists take unnecessary chances when driving. This is a form of gambling. If you drive, you're betting that you won't be involved in a traffic accident. If you lose the bet, the stakes are high — human lives.

During the first two months of 1979, 168 people were killed on Illinois highways. This is 36 less than in the same period last year. During February 1979, in only 28 days, 96 people were killed in Illinois. In January 1979, which had 31 days, 72 people were killed.

In District Eleven, which covers a nine-county area, there were four rural fatalities in February. The total is nine during the first two months of 1979. Last year during the same period, District Eleven had nine rural fatalities.

Nationwide, a person is killed in a traffic accident approximately every 15 minutes, 150 per day and 50,000 annually.

The odds are that one out of every two drivers will be involved in a fatal or personal injury accident. Would you like to worsen these odds? Take a drink or two. Then you'll be playing with a stacked deck.

Captain Albert J. Bertagnoli, commander, District Eleven, advises all motorists not to take unnecessary chances when driving.

You can reduce the odds of having an accident by obeying all traffic laws. Reduce your speed when you encounter adverse conditions, drive courteously and always wear your seat belt.

Emerson PTA to meet Tuesday

Emerson School will hold their PTA meeting Tuesday at 7:30 p.m.

Business for the evening will include the election of new officers for the 1978-79 school year.

Discuss human relations study

The Venice Title I and Title VII Districtwide Advisory Council will meet Thursday, March 15, at 10:30 a.m. in the school library. Mrs. Charlotte Dilday, chairman, said discussions will center around the recently held district institute, special assemblies and field trips. Title VII proposals for 1979-80, the Title IV Elementary Secondary Education Act proposal for 1979-80, and an open house set for April 19. A team from the Systems Development Corporation will visit the grade school April 16 to 20. This visit will tie in with the human relations study being conducted this year.

GC graduates plan 50th year reunion

The 50th year reunion of Granite City High School's 1929 graduating class is planned for June 3 at Charlie's Restaurant, it was announced this week. Members of the organizing committee, Everett Brady, Mrs. Earl Lewis and Miss Selma Nelson, report responses from many parts of the country indicate most of their surviving classmates are planning to attend. A few class members are not at their last reported addresses, and anyone whereabouts is being asked to contact a committee member.

MUSICAL ENTERTAINMENT for senior citizens is provided by members of the Alpha Phi Omega fraternity and the "Us" class of Niedringhaus United Methodist Church last week at the Granite City Township Building. Playing the theme

AUTO IS TAKEN

The auto of Betty Graham, 910 West Chain of Rocks Road, stolen from Tri-Mor Bowl last week, was recovered in Caseyville where it had been used in an attempted residence burglary. Caseyville police said a youth fled on foot from the car and escaped. Mrs. Graham had left the auto's engine running while she went into the bowling alley to get something, and when she returned outside the car was gone.

Council is reluctant on regional treatment plan

By GARY SCHNEIDER
Press-Record Staff Writer

Concern over working with St. Clair County in a regional approach to meeting federal clean water requirements kept the Granite City Council from approving a regional agreement last week.

"Anytime we come up with something with St. Clair County, it worries me," Alderman Sam Whitmer, chairman pro-tem for the council meeting, said in asking that the agreement be tabled until it has been studied by the city engineer, city attorney and other city officials.

Mrs. Jackie Brenner, a planner with the Southwestern Illinois Metropolitan and Regional Planning Commission (SIMARPC), presented the council with a resolution accepting local responsibility for implementing the Public Law 208 clean water act and agreeing to work with St. Clair and Monroe Counties on regional water pollution problems.

Mrs. Brenner explained that an Areawide Management Coordinating Board (AMCB) of 15 persons will be established to oversee water pollution problems which affect the region.

"They would work for you and follow your directions, not dictate programs to you," the planner said.

She explained that the AMCB, as proposed by SIMARPC, would have five members appointed by each county.

"The county board of each county would select one member, the soil and water conservation district would pick one, the private sewer districts in each county would agree on one member, and the municipalities would select two members, possibly through voting by the Southwestern Illinois Council of Mayors."

The same selection would take place in each of the three counties.

She gave the aldermen copies of a written explanation of the proposal for them to study.

She said it is not necessary for the city to accept responsibility for meeting federal requirements for wastewater treatment (already in operation in Granite City), reducing erosion and sedimentation from construction activities, preventing pollution in urban stormwater runoff, and controlling septic tanks and other "on-site" sewage disposal systems."

Alderman Fred P. Schuman Jr. said he is worried about funding for any people who might have to be hired for construction site inspections, on-site program evaluations and other parts of the program.

Mrs. Brenner said such inspectors are not in the program planning at this time.

Alderman Lloyd Bailey asked if Mrs. Brenner will include in her reports to the federal government a request that matching funds or grants be given with each federally-mandated cost the city will incur, and she agreed.

Alderman Paul Ray Bowler said he feels the city should refuse to take responsibility for the 208 regulations and let the federal government appoint another body to be responsible and to bear any costs involved.

The problem of cleaning storm runoff water concerned Alderman Warren Decatur, who noted that the city's sewage treatment plants cannot handle storm water as well as sewage.

"This thing gets so ridiculous some times, I don't know where it is going to end. We could not afford to treat storm runoff water," Decatur said.

The planner said stormwater treatment is not in the program at this time. "The 'feds' would have to come up with some money or a new program," she said.

She quoted Collinsville Mayor Lewis Krause, who stated, "The water in our area will be as clean as we can pay for."

True meaning of frustration

Went to the dentist last week. Now I know the true meaning of the word frustration.

I strolled into the office. Why on earth did I ever make the appointment in the first place? It was only a little pain. So I popped aspirins until I was bloated to the gills from the water it took to swallow the stupid things. What's a little excruciating pain compared to going to the DENTIST?

I turned to escape, but I was too late. They had spotted me.

I was trapped. There was no way for me to leave gracefully. I allowed myself to be escorted back to a room that put me in mind of a space capsule.

There was this weird chair-couch affair and, once seated in the thing, there was no way to get out unless they let you out. I was sure that the entire room had to be soundproofed against the screams.

I am not brave when it comes to dentists. I holler a lot, and it doesn't bother me a bit.

I was gearing myself up for a real bout when I walked the best looking young dentist I had ever seen.

No way! Foul! There was no way that I was going to make my usual scene with that gorgeous hunk looking into my mouth. Dentists are supposed to be kindly old men, not young, good looking swinger types.

Turned out that the hunk was in the wrong room. I was relieved, to say the least. Then I walked a dentist I could hate. HIM I could have a fit with.

He took one look in my mouth and declared that I was going to lose two teeth in the next 20 minutes. Two TEETH!

I began my fit, but since I could not get out of the space chair, it didn't do me any good.

The next few minutes passed with the dentist being so patient with me that I couldn't even holler. Here I was expecting to be tortured quite thoroughly and he did absolutely nothing that hurt. I couldn't believe it.

The teeth were pulled and I left, frustrated. I had gotten myself all hyped up to scream my head off and then not done it.

Well, I wasn't going to waste a good venting opportunity, so I drove straight to the park and screamed myself out.

I think I'm going to go back to my old dentist so I can do my yelling in the proper atmosphere. I felt silly in the park.

Mark Kastelic second in state

Mark Kastelic has earned an $800 scholarship and a silver medal in the Illinois state final American Legion oratorical contest, held in Lyons Township High School, Western Springs, Ill. He competed against four division winners from Illinois.

Kastelic earned his way to the state finals by winning the district oratorical contest in early February at Althoff High School in Belleville and then earning top honors Feb. 21 in the division contest.

He is a junior at Granite City High School North, where his speech coach is Dr. Goni Michaeloff.

More health care center inspections

Governor James R. Thompson last week called for strengthening preventive health services and increasing health care facility inspections in his $93.9 million fiscal year 1980 budget for the Department of Public Health.

Overall, the public health request is up 12 percent over the current year, with family health and disease control programs showing the largest increases.

Family health will receive more than $6 million in new funding, while the department's disease control program will increase from $4.4 million to $7.3 million.

In FY 80, there will be increased inspection and monitoring of ambulatory surgical treatment centers, including those centers where abortions are performed.

"Close surveillance by additional staff and prompt action to revoke licenses, where violations occur, will help ensure that the centers are providing safe, quality care and are in compliance with state standards," Thompson said.

The Family Practice Residency Program, which provides funds to upgrade the training of medical residents and makes grants available to medical students in return for service — will be enlarged to include 23 scholarships next year. The department also plans to reach the national target of immunizing 90 percent of all school children, as well as expanding the program to vaccinate high-risk persons against influenza.

An estimated 5,700 children will be screened for lead poisoning during FY 80, as compared to 1,200 the year before.

DAMAGE CHARGED

Ida F. Schaffer, 32, of 1628 Clark Ave., was arrested last week and charged with criminal damage to property. It is alleged she threw a piece of concrete through the front window at the home of Loretta Greer, 2208 Nevada Ave.

6.2% listed for faculty raises

The Illinois Board of Higher Education last week approved a plan for allocation of Gov. James E. Thompson's budget for higher education for the 1979-80 fiscal year.

The allocation seeks nearly $30 million less in General Revenue funding than the budget recommendations presented in January by the Board of Higher Education.

A primary difference in the two plans is the average salary increase recommended. In the allocation of the governor's budget, funds for a 6.2 percent salary increase are provided.

The IBHE has recommended an increase of seven percent, while Southern Illinois University had requested increases of 11 percent.

Non-personnel cost increases included in the allocation of the governor's budget include a general cost boost of six percent and an increase of 15 percent for library expenditures.

Funds for utilities cost increases ranging from 12 to 16.5 percent were recommended, depending on the mix of energy sources used by individual campuses.

A total of $4.5 million is included in the allocation of the governor's budget for program development needs. In addition, the allocation includes $2.3 million for repair and maintenance of physical facilities and $1.3 million for equipment replacement.

At SIU at Edwardsville, the allocation of the governor's budget includes $138,400 for program support and $280,000 for other items, including $98,800 for repair and maintenance, $175,000 for equipment replacement and $5,200 for fire protection.

The program support includes $19,300 for the Bachelor of Science in Construction, $29,200 for the B.S. in Engineering, $39,900 for the B.A. in Social Work, $25,000 for the Teacher Center Project, and $25,000 for the Academic Resources Center.

At SIU at Carbondale, the allocation includes $470,400 in program support and $631,200 for other items. SIUE's total budget under the allocation plan is $38,361,500, compared with the IBHE recommendation of $38,808,900 and the university's original request of $41,698,500. The 1979-79 appropriation for SIUE was $36,319,900.

At SIUC, the total budget under the allocation plan is $87,115,900, compared with the IBHE recommendation at $88,089,500. The university's original request was $92,513,700. The 1978-79 appropriation for SIUC was $80,709,300.

The IBHE also offered an allocation plan for SIU which includes adjustments to the appropriations base to support continuation of off-campus degree programs. These adjustments are necessary to meet financial guidelines established by the legislative Audit Commission.

Through these guidelines, public universities are now depositing revenue into the income fund for appropriation that previously had been retained in local accounts.

With the financial guidelines adjustment, the allocation of the governor's budget for SIUE is $39,499,500. At SIUC, with the financial guidelines adjustment, the allocation totals $92,505,900.

The IBHE has requested each higher education system and agency to provide a line item, object classification distribution of the amounts allocated in the governor's budget by March 19.

James Jurman, IBHE executive director, has indicated he will ask board members to reaffirm support for the original higher education budget as bills are introduced in the legislature later this month.

Neither the board's recommendation nor the governor's is binding. The appropriation levels are determined by the legislature.

Martha Rochester earns certificate

Executive secretary to the Superintendent of Schools of Granite City District No. 9, Mrs. Martha Rochester has received a National Association of Educational Secretaries (NAES) Professional Standards Certificate.

The NAES provides the opportunity for its members to enhance their professional competencies through continuing academic programs, conferences, and institutes. These incentive activities enable the member to make progressive steps to their desired professional growth level.

Successful completion of an NAES approved program qualifies the member for a Professional Standard Certificate.

Each certificate is based on requirements in three areas: education, experience and professional activity.

Mrs. Rochester has completed the requirements for the Professional Standard Program Certificate. The only other educational secretary of this community to have fulfilled the requirements for the certificate is Mrs. Catherine Witteyongel, secretary at Parkway School. She received hers in 1976 at Northern Iowa University.

MARTHA ROCHESTER

Mrs. Rochester has long served the Granite City Board of Education. She served the school system on a voluntary basis from 1940. She was permanently hired in 1954 as secretary to Miss Coulter.

Since 1955 she served as secretary to Victor Anderson, Dr. Harold Kaiser, Russell Johnson and B. J. Davis to date.

She is presently office manager for the Board of Education, secretary to the Superintendent, and does clerical work for the Board of Education.

Her long, successful career has covered many facets in the area of education, secretarial, and clerical services for the Board of Education.

Mrs. Rochester is a widow and has two sons, Terry and Harold.

The only member of Mrs. Rochester's family living in Granite City is her mother, Mrs. Zula Warford, 2324 Wilshire Drive.

Mrs. Rochester pursues reading and music, and is a member of the Third Baptist Church.

She has been active in Business and Professional Women's Club, DeMolay Mother's Club, PTA, and Band Parents.

Madison wants ICC to rule on crossings

The Madison City Council last week voted to reject a letter from the Illinois Terminal Railroad on repair proposals for crossings in Madison and instructed its legal counsel to continue to press for an Illinois Commerce Commission hearing.

"We cannot seem to get anything concrete from the railroad, and all this letter says is they will fix the crossings. They are already working on the Iowa Street crossing because they have to — the whole track separated last week," Madison Mayor Mike Sasyk said.

Repair and maintenance of crossings at State Street, Grand and Madison avenues and Iowa and Washington streets have been a problem that the council has been trying to solve for several years.

City Comptroller Albert Hudak read a letter from the U.S. Housing and Urban Development Department which noted that preliminary approval had been given for a $177,000 grant to renovate business establishments in the city from Second to 14th streets.

The council had been notified by telephone two weeks ago about the approval.

Now that this has been confirmed, a meeting will be held with HUD representatives to review private fund sector agreements and to discuss the exact terms and conditions.

HUD will need to have legally binding agreements from private fund sources by Aug. 1 for the grant to receive final approval, it was related.

On the recommendation of Sheppard, Morgan and Schwaab, consulting engineers, the council approved reimbursements from the motor fuel tax fund to the general fund in the amount of $22,337 for labor paid out, and $24,351 for equipment rental. The funds were paid for street and alley maintenance.

A letter complimenting the city street department for snow removal was read. It was from members of the Polish National Catholic Church.

The council authorized the VFW to hold "buddy poppy" days in Madison on Friday and Saturday, May 18 and 19.

Mayor Sasyk reported to the council that movie people from Warner Brothers will be at the Chain of Rocks Bridge again today and Friday to look things over. He said no agreement as to charges for use of the bridge in a motion picture has been completed.

The mayor noted that a four-hour television movie will bring additional money into the business community.

"They have already agreed to buy the autos from a local dealer. I think the movie will be a unique happening for our city, in addition to bringing in $350 revenue," he concluded.

The council approved $350 for Assistant Fire Chief Charles Voloski to attend a firefighting conference in Memphis, Tenn., in late March.

Fourth Ward Alderman Mike Sikora raised questions about two houses and a garage that he feels need to be torn down before a child is hurt there.

Building Inspector Frank Dutko said the owner of the property is a store operator in Granite City and he feels that the man will cooperate, but he recently was robbed and beaten up at his store.

Break 12 car windows

Granite City police last week discovered windshield and glass broken in about 12 autos in the northern part of the city and were told a young man with blond hair was seen using a large iron bar to break car windows. He left in an early 1970s car, possibly a primer gray Chevrolet with a red patch on the right rear. The witness said he believes someone other than the blond youth was driving the car.

Initial reports received were of broken car windows at 2316 and 2306 Lynch Ave., 2325 and 2337 Clark Avenue, 1837 Spring Ave. and 1800 Ferguson Ave.

A damaged vehicle at 2402 W. 23rd St. also was reported.

Protestant Welfare dinner on April 17

St. John United Church of Christ hosted the Protestant Welfare Association, and the host pastor the Rev. James Mory, gave the devotion. Mrs. Minnie Dillard and Mrs. Marie Whittle submitted reports.

Mrs. Norma Petty listed 74 cases involving 122 persons at a cost of $1,061. There were 440 cases involving 967 persons with aid amounting to $9,450 during 1978. She also presented a summary of aid given in January — 25 cases involving 56 persons and $569.

The members voted to have the annual banquet on April 17.

The next meeting will be held at Third Baptist Church. Closing prayer was offered by the Rev. H. Richard Schetz, followed by refreshments.

Fire collections present problem

The question of fire service to Nameoki Township was discussed last week by members of the Madison City Council and Madison Fire Chief Eldon Rhoads.

Rhoads said, "We have made 18 fire calls to dwellings in Nameoki Township in the last 12 months. This does not count car fires, and so forth, and we have been reimbursed for only four of them."

"We only charge $350 for an out-of-city call and it really costs us between $1,300 and $1,800 every time we roll," Madison Mayor Mike Sasyk said, "This is unfair to the taxpayers of our city and we must come to some type of agreement within the next 30 days.

"I am asking our legal counsel to confer with the township's lawyer and see if they can come up with some type of method where we can be paid."

The City Council approved putting a fire hydrant at Fifth Street and McNair Avenue.

2 more targets in this country's federal investigation?

Those who have speculated accurately in the past about the federal grand jury investigation are guessing that two relatively well-known political figures are the chief remaining targets. Neither currently holds countywide elective office.

This view contrasts somewhat with the opinion of Dr. Edward Ragsdale, Madison County Republican chairman, who professes to see evil nearly everywhere he looks in the Democratic-dominated county. His contention is that even though it was a former sheriff who was convicted, and a widely-respected new sheriff is in office, the county remains in deep trouble.

Slatermaking, a practice dabbled in by the county GOP on occasion, draws the Godfrey physician's ire because the Democrats combine it with collection of campaign funds for distribution to committeemen to hire workers and drivers.

He alleges that "when (former) sheriff) Maers was at his height of power, it was all too commonplace for candidates to in effect buy their political nominations in return for up to $15,000 paid to the Democratic coffers. The same closed Slatermaking process continues to have a corrupting influence. If left unchecked, we run the risk of witnessing another Maers-type situation in the future." He contends that some committeemen have been paid $1.25 per vote cast.

Mrs. Alma Hale, 43, dies

Mrs. Alma Hale, 43, of 2419 Iowa St., died at 9:30 a.m. Sunday at Firmin Desloge Hospital, St. Louis, where she had been a patient since Nov. 18.

She was a lifelong resident of Granite City and a member of Glenview Chapel Assembly of God Church.

Her father, Oscar Murphy, preceded her in death.

Survivors include her husband, Stephen D. Hale, one daughter, Mrs. Bob (Nina) Jean Stevens, Granite City; two sons, Mark Hale, Madison, and Stephen D. Hale Jr., Woodard, Okla.; an adopted grandson, Mark Hale, at home; one brother, Rick Post, and a sister, Sharon Post, both of Patton, Mo.; her mother, Mrs. Marvin (Dora) Post, Fulton, and another grandchild.

Funeral arrangements are given in the obituary column.

for seven years and was employed at General Steel Industries as a cookmaker for one year.

A 1952 graduate of Granite City High School, he attended Amarillo Junior College in Texas and Southern Illinois University at Carbondale.

He is a native and lifelong resident of Granite City.

Harrison served aboard the U.S.S. Iowa in 1952-1956, and is still an active member of the Naval Air Reserve.

equipment and inadequate manpower."

The street superintendent comments that he:

"Wants good streets; that's No. 1 with me. Wants more of the existing streets covered with asphalt overlay."

"Believes that for continued growth and expansion, we need a solid storm drainage system and sewer system."

"Initiated a system of television monitoring and grouting of sanitary sewer systems, saving thousands of dollars."

"Instituted a program of in-house maintenance of equipment."

"Maintains 17 sewer lift stations worth more than $1 million."

"Maintains more than 600 miles of streets and sewers."

Attitudes and social changes that grew out of traumatic World War II experiences spawned the modern death awareness movement, Prof. Fulton believes.

"In the late 1950s, hospitals began to fill with elderly people dying, many of chronic diseases," he says. "At the same time, the public refused to think about death because so many had experienced profound loss during the war years."

While the public sought to bury such death-related social customs as mourning, academics in a variety of disciplines in the 1950s began systematic research into grieving, the process of dying, and other aspects of death.

However, it wasn't until 1970, when Elisabeth Kubler-Ross received national attention for her concern for dying patients, that the death awareness movement "went public."

Fulton recalls. After almost a decade of progress, Fulton believes the movement has peaked "in a good way."

"After the initial excitement, we now find ourselves in a period of consolidation and implementation," he states.

"Professionals continue to explore death systematically in the classroom and the public is beginning to feel more comfortable expressing the deep feelings of loss associated with death."

"For the first time in 30 years, wreaths of mourning are beginning to appear on homes in the Midwest," he adds.

"And during the 1978 World Series, the Los Angeles Dodgers all wore the number of their deceased teammate, Gilman, on their uniform sleeves."

with all street department problems, such as lack of sewer maintenance, clearing of snow, and implementing a comprehensive plan relating to street and sidewalk repairs.

All of this can be done within a strict budget and, therefore, my platform is constructive and realistic. It is my guide for future and immediate actions."

"My one and only loyalty is to you, the people of Granite City, and my only promise is to serve your best interest faithfully at all times."

The residence had been burglarized twice previously this year, on Feb. 23 and March 2.

He allegedly pried on the front door lock with a crowbar, and then kicked in the door and yelled, "Don't move, old lady."

The noise woke a 62-year-old boarder who was told to lie on the floor. The robber said, "Don't move or I'll shoot you." He then took $70 from the victim's wallet, put a blanket over him and fled.

Topple Vandalia 67-42

Trojans make it 'sweet (sixteen)'

By PETE HAYES
Sports Editor
of the Press-Record
VANDALIA — The wait was only two years instead of 18. But the elation and sense of accomplishment are just as sweet.

So it is with Madison High. The Trojans, whose 1977 Sweet Sixteen appearance marked the first since 1959, repeated here Friday with a resounding 67-42 victory over Vandalia in the championship game of the Class A (small school) Sectional Tournament.

The victory for Madison means a trip tomorrow (Tuesday) to Charleston and a meeting with Fairfield at the Lantz Gymnasium at Eastern Illinois University (See related story) at 7:30 p.m. Madison, which won the state title in 1977, hopes to join Lawrenceville as the only two-time Class A champ in history.

The issue against Vandalia

Press-Record Sports

was never really in doubt. The Trojans jumped out to an early lead and never looked back. "Getting off to that good start helped a lot," said Madison Coach Larry Graham. "We penetrated their man-to-man defense pretty easily, which makes me feel good."

Graham went on to say that teams had been using a man-to-man against the Trojans recently because this club had begun to show a weakness for it. "We haven't been so great against the man-to-man lately," said Graham. "But just look at what we did tonight. We're getting better."

Graham may be nominated for the Understatement of the Year Award.

But don't credit the Madison offense with getting things rolling so early. It was partly because of the Trojans' pressing defense. "We had two quick turnovers against them which took us out of our game pattern," said Vandalia Coach Jim Corona. "After that, we never had a chance to come back."

Many (including Graham) expected Corona to use a stall game-plan for the rest of the game. Vandalia had held Class AA power Effingham to a 34-22 verdict earlier in the season using the slow-down game. But instead, the Vandals waited until they were 14 points down in the second quarter before they went to the four corners offense. Why?

"I wanted to change the tempo," said Corona, "and hope that Madison would come out on us and take some chances." The Corona strategy obviously did not work. Even with the stall, his team was outscored by Madison 10-4 in the stanza.

Madison's Carlyn Jackson led the way for the Trojans in the game with 18 points. Morris Hughes has 12 and Ricky Powers had 10. They were the only Trojans in double figures. But just about everybody on the Madison roster scored.

One notable absentee from the double-figure scoring list for the Trojans was all-around forward-guard Kenny Stanley. The reason? He injured a knee late in the first half and saw limited action after that. He finished the game with eight points.

"Kenny banged his knee pretty good just as the half ended," said Graham. "We put him in to open the second half, but he couldn't go. We got him out of there pretty quickly and he didn't play any more after that."

Graham said that Stanley was limping badly Saturday. "He could hardly walk," he said. "He was limping around so much that I don't know if he'll be able to go Tuesday."

Stanley averaged 16.5 points a game for the Trojans. He will most likely be replaced in the starting lineup — should he not be able to answer the call — by 6-3 Eric Stanley.

"Even if Kenny can start, Eric will see a lot of action against Fairfield," said Graham.

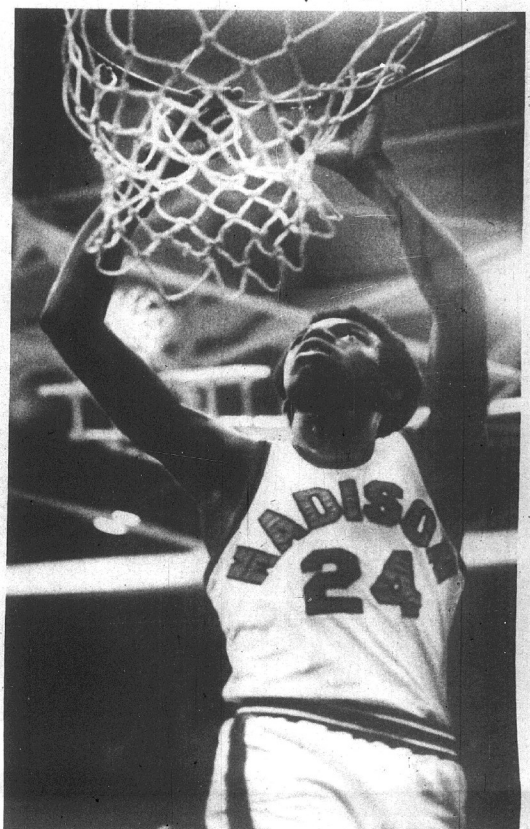

But back to Vandalia. With

Super tickets

MADISON — Tickets for tomorrow night's Supersectional game at Charleston between Madison High and Fairfield are on sale today and tomorrow in the principal's office at MHS.

The tickets went on sale today from 9 until 11 a.m. and are on sale this afternoon from 3 until 5 p.m. Madison High students may purchase tickets during their lunch periods.

Tomorrow, tickets will go on sale from 9 a.m. until noon. Any tickets not sold by that time will be returned to Eastern Illinois University.

TO THE VICTOR goes the ... net in this case. Madison reserve Pat Hatter cuts down a net Friday after his team defeated Vandalia 67-42 to win the championship of the Vandalia Small School Sectional.

Fairfield has 'Mo-momentum' in first-ever Super clash

By PETE HAYES
Sports Editor
of the Press-Record

FAIRFIELD — One thing about it, Fairfield has a sixth player on its basketball team and his name is "Mo." That's short for "Mo-momentum."

Coach Bill Garrett's Mules continued to surprise the basketball world of Southeastern Illinois Friday night with a 74-43 victory over Marshall in the championship game of the Bridgeport Class A (small school) Sectional. They will now face Madison Tuesday at Eastern Illinois University in Charleston in a 7:30 p.m. Supersectional clash.

Tuesday's winner will move on to the University of Illinois Assembly Hall for a 12:15 p.m. game in the opening round of the state finals against the Havana-Pittsfield Macomb Super winner, Madison will be favored.

But upsets are becoming a way of life for Garrett's team. His Mules finished fourth this season in the North Egypt Conference behind powers Olney, Lawrenceville and Carmi. Since then, however, they've beaten two of those three teams ahead of them (Olney is Class AA-large school). The Sweet Sixteen berth for Fairfield is the first in the school's history. The Mules also won a regional for only the third time since 1939 (others came in 1971 and 1977). They beat Carmi 68-64 for regional honors this time, upset fifth-ranked Lawrenceville 87-86 last week at Bridgeport and downed Marshall Friday.

Fairfield is led by 6-3 senior center Kent Taylor who scored 33 points Friday. He is helped out by 6-1 Larry French (16 against Marshall) and 6-foot Darryl Ewing (14). Fairfield's guards are 5-8 Donnie Pike and 6-2 John Basnett.

Marshall managed to move to within four points of Fairfield in the third quarter Friday after 39-29 at half-time. "We wanted to get an early lead because we knew Marshall is a good club that doesn't make too many errors," said Garrett. "We knew we had to work hard for rebounds. Taylor is great at getting position and he has good timing."

"Ewing will surprise you. He rebounds extremely well for a six-footer. French plays a tough game of defense and still averages around 12 points a game. I'd say Pike was one of the best guards in the conference this season."

Garrett said his team knows what it has to go up against in Madison. "I don't think the game at Charleston will be anti-climatic for us, he said. "We've already talked about it."

"We know Madison is a very talented team. I also know they don't have a pure center, but they leap well. Madison teams always do and they're quick."

The 48-year-old Garrett announced last week his intentions to step down as head coach at the end of the season. He intends to stay on as athletic director. "I'm sure I'll miss it (basketball)," he said. "I'll always love this game."

A familiar face to Quad-Cityans readers at Charleston Tuesday may be that of Fairfield Superintendent Walter Warfield. He is a former Granite Cityan and taught for several years in the Madison School system.

Second-half 'chill' dooms South, 78-57

By KEVIN ALLEN
of the Press-Record

GRANITE CITY — Granite City South Coach Don Deterding had his feet propped up on the desk as he poured over the statistics of his team's 78-57 loss to Collinsville's Kahoks in the championship game of the Granite City North Regional Basketball Tournament Friday.

Between hasty references to his books, he was attempting to explain the reasons for the defeat. The words weren't coming easily.

Deterding's comments nearly always came back to the same point. He thought the turning point of the game came early in the third quarter, when South's Jamie Blasingame collected his fifth foul and was forced to sit down.

"When Jamie left," said Deterding, "whatever chance we had left with him. The final outcome wasn't really indicative of what we're capable of."

At the point of Blasingame's departure, South's Warriors trailed the Kahoks by only five points. But afterwards, things rapidly went downhill.

For the first two quarters, South had been scoring from the outside. But that was expected of them. Somewhat more surprising was the Warriors' ability to move the ball inside on Collinsville's forward wall of 6-4 Gary Kerkemeyer and 6-7 Bill Mosier.

But that's exactly what South did for the first half. Then suddenly in the third period, the success under the basket dried up for the Warriors.

According to Deterding, this turn of events and Blasingame's exile to the bench were no mere coincidence.

In the first half the Warriors found that if they brought the ball down the court and drove inside they could do one of two things. If the ball handler found himself smack up against either one of Collinsville's lofty duo of Mosier or Kerkemeyer, he could pass the ball off to one of the wings, who could pop away from the outside. If he made it all the way to the basket he could shoot from there.

Thus, the Warriors were mounting a two-phased attack. That is until they lost Blasingame. "That worked well all night," said Deterding. "But when Blasingame fouled out, they were able to double-team (Jeff) Parker."

That move by the Kahoks effectively cut down on Parker's production. In the first half he made five field goals. He had only one in the second half.

Unfortunately for South, its other usually dependable long-range specialist, Lee Heubner was having what Deterding described as "just one of those nights." Heubner was 2 of 13 from the floor.

With South's offense shut down, Collinsville took advantage. What had been a one-point lead for the Kahoks at the half, became an eight-point advantage at the end of the third quarter.

South was still in the game. But that soon changed. South was forced to forsake control for a chance to get its hands on the ball. This over-aggressiveness resulted in a constant parade of Kahoks taking their turn at the free throw line.

The Kahoks went to the line 17 times in the final period. 16 times they were successful. In total, Collin-

How sweet it is!

VANDALIA — In some ways, the game should never have been played. Many observers thought last Tuesday's Class A sectional clash here between St. Paul-Highland and Madison would decide the championship. They were right.

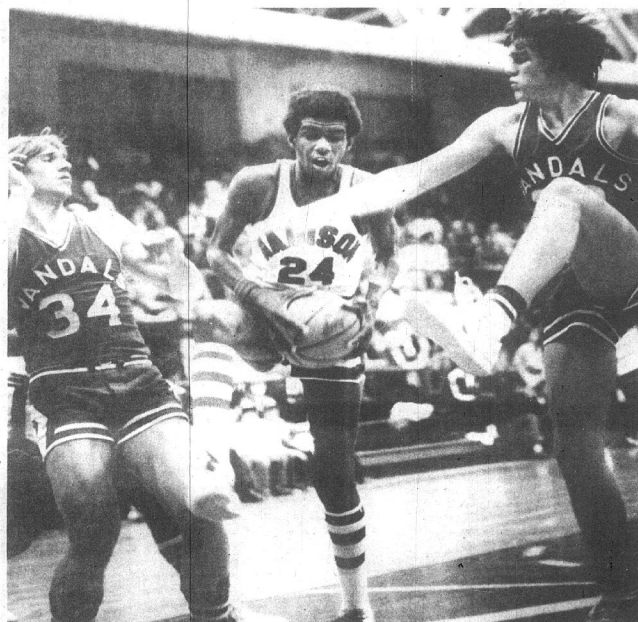

Friday, Madison took charge from the very beginning and crushed Vandalia's Vandals 67-42 to win the Sectional title and advance to tomorrow's state tournament Supersectional game at Eastern Illinois University in Charleston against Fairfield.

The opponent at Charleston was supposed to be Lawrenceville. But somebody forgot to tell Fairfield. The Mules upset the fifth-ranked Indians last week in the semifinals at Bridgeport and then beat Marshall Friday to advance to EIU.

Nevertheless, the whole thing will be over in a week. Either Madison will get a taste of victory or will go down to defeat. Either the Trojans will go on to the University of Illinois Assembly Hall in Champaign for an "Elite Eight" berth, or Fairfield's Mules will keep their upset string alive.

But for right now, how sweet (16) it is!

Big Red vs. GC team in big game tomorrow

By VALERIE EVENEDEN
Press-Record Staff Writer

An in-depth investigation into the identity of the mystery athlete, whose addition to the Granite City Police-Firemen-EMT all-star basketball team promises to boost its chances against the football Big Red all-star cagers Tuesday night, has turned up some clues.

Those attending the Officer Friendly benefit basketball game at 8 p.m. Tuesday will see a special favorite among sports enthusiasts, resident in a hometown uniform.

Pre-game ceremonies will precede the contest at 7:45, with the game getting under way at 8 o'clock sharp in the Memorial Gymnasium on the Granite City High School South campus.

Even the best efforts of the football Cardinals' cagers themselves came to naught, when they failed to discover the mystery man's identity on a recent visit here.

Several Big Red members came to town, all attempting to uncover the facts. Likewise, Granite City police officers, firemen and emergency medical technicians, on whose team "he" will perform, have not been able to pry the information from the three or four individuals "in the know."

Putting two and four together, this reporter learned his identity, but immediately was sworn to secrecy upon the information being confirmed.

Threats, however, are something else! To avoid possible retaliation from those "in the know," while giving readers an opportunity to make an educated guess, the names of four top contenders are being listed without the star player's identity being deliberately revealed.

The reader is invited to select the person he or she believes most capable of helping the Granite City all-star team avoid its third devastating loss to the Big Red in as many games over the last three years:

Tin VanGilder, ex-quarterback of the St. Louis football Cardinals and now a sports announcer, who has kept in shape by working out with his former team; and occasionally, and playing volleyball and hockey.

Jay Haas, a graduate of Belleville High West, rapidly becoming one of the top professional golfers on the pro circuit; and an ex-basketball player, who is a personal friend of several Granite Cityans.

Jimmy Connors, world champion tennis star and a graduate of Belleville High School West, who also has a good background on the hard courts.

Handsome James Michael Sensibaugh, former Cardinal safety, who could hardly turn against the ex-teammates, but whose name keeps cropping up from time to time.

Only those at the Officer Friendly game tomorrow night actually will see the surprise guest performer.

Tickets, costing $2 each, will be available at the door from 6:30 p.m. Each ticket admits one adult or two children.

Quarterback Jim Hart, 6-1, 210 pounds, from Southern Illinois University at Carbondale, will lead the Big Red team. He holds the bulk of the Big Red passing records, including most passes, most yards gained and most touchdown passes.

All-Pro performer Roger Wehrli, cornerback, 6-4, 190 pounds, from Missouri University, now in his 11th year with the Cardinals. His finesse and quickness on the field has gained the universal respect of opposing players.

Wide receiver Mel Gray, also a University of Missouri alumni, 5-9, 175 pounds, now in his eighth year with St. Louis, whose deep receptions have thrilled many spectators over the years.

Doug Greene, 6-2, 188 pounds, defensive back, an All-American at Texas A & I University, who showed great potential in his rookie season in 1978.

Cornerback Lee Nelson, 5-10, 185 pounds, from Florida State University, who had interceptions in three straight games.

Linebacker Steve Neils from the University of Minnesota, a five-year member of the football Cardinals, who is 6-2, 215 pounds.

Big Red hometown product Steve Plaskiewicz, 6-2, 205 pounds, who was the Cardinals first draft choice in 1977. He is a graduate of the University of Missouri where he set many records, including most completed passes and most passing yards, and McCluer High School in North St. Louis County.

Colorful entertainment at halftime will feature the Steel City Belles pom squad and the North Guard Indian dancers of Explorer Post 6, sponsored by Concordia Lutheran Church Laymen's League.

This is the third year the North Band Department has played an integral part in bringing "music, and motion to music" to the Officer Friendly game.

The year's appearance by the Granite City North Steeler Pep Band and the auxiliary groups promises to be one of the most entertaining ever, according to the director, Robert D. Todoff.

"We will pull out all of the stops to bring an exciting display of excellence and unique talent for the enjoyment of the audience Tuesday evening," the band director said.

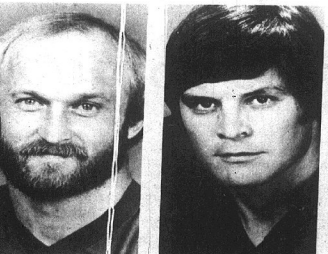

"Our students look forward to being part of the night's activities and are well prepared to give their best for this special program," Todoff added.

Headlining the 50-member squads are Karen Hatcher and Laurie Webb, assisted by Marilyn Szczepanik, for the national award-winning Steel City Belles pom squad; Suzanne Atkinson and Susan Simmers for the North Guard Flares; and Lisa Henderson and Karen Kessler, assistant, for the North Guard Rifles.

Fred the tarantula

No monster, he's somebody's friend

Fred is actually quite beautiful, if you can get past the fact that he is a tarantula.

He has never escaped the confines of the glass enclosure in which he lives, but one thing is sure. If he ever does, Dan Heath will no longer have the great hairy spider for a pet.

Those are the sentiments of Dan's mother, who is not all that fond of young Fred.

Heath likes the little monster, and has promised his mother that Fred will not turn up on the kitchen sink or nestled in the laundry basket.

Despite his vicious appearance, Fred is no more dangerous than a wasp, and probably a lot friendlier. He looks like a monster who would rather bite you than look at you, but of Fred is really pretty "laid back" for a tarantula.

When young Heath isn't letting Fred crawl around on his arm, the rather lazy spider hangs out under a rock in the aquarium-like pen that Heath built for him.

Fred is a desert creature by nature, and Heath has created the perfect environment for his hairy friend.

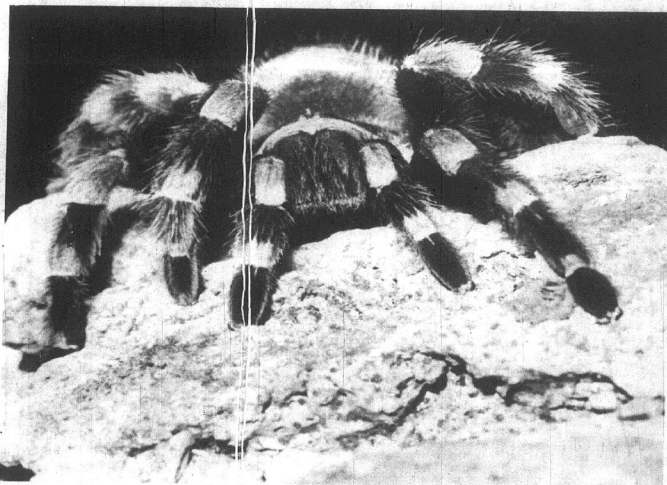

Fred is semi-dormant right now. Heath said that Fred will get a lot more active when the weather gets warmer. For the moment, the tarantula would rather hang around, waiting for something edible to come along.

In order to keep himself off the menu, Heath provides mice for Fred to munch on. There are six or seven of the little creatures running around in Fred's desert most of the time.

Heath said Fred is most interesting when he is stalking his prey, jumping and moving quickly while in pursuit.

Heath has found that the best time to show Fred off to his friends, especially his girlfriends, is when the spider is stalking.

"Makes a great conversation piece," he adds.

School and city cost cuts are praised by Chamber

The Tri-Cities Area Chamber of Commerce last week took a stand regarding the "cash flow crisis of tax-supported bodies in this area."

President Roger A. Higgins and Taxation Committee Chairman James Henderson announced:

1. "The Chamber of Commerce supports and commends Mayor Schuler and the City Council for their efforts to reduce spending in line with income, and offer the Chamber's cooperation and support to help meet their goal to avoid deficit spending."
2. "Supports and commends Supt. B. J. Davis, his staff, and the School Board for their efforts to reduce spending in line with income, and offer the Chamber's cooperation and support to help meet their goal to avoid deficit spending."

3. "Supports and understands the difficult problem facing Robert Vickers, superintendent, and the Venice School Board due to shortage of cash to meet current obligations."

"The Chamber of Commerce board of directors understands the threat of a tax revolt and its far-reaching implications."

"We stand ready and willing to do what we can to assist in curtailing spending, which appears to be the best way to slow down inflation

JAIL TERM SET

Circuit Judge Harold R. Clark has ordered Wendy Camburn (Jackson), 17, of Granite City to serve 90 days in the Madison County Jail and two years of probation after she pleaded guilty to an aggravated battery case from Aug. 13, 1978.

TRUCK BURGLARY

William Hoover of Belleville reported at 11:55 p.m. Thursday that his pickup truck was burglarized while parked at 15th Street and Madison Avenue. Taken were a CB radio, worth $209, scanner, $89, half-ton jack, $14, ammunition, $6, and a flashlight, $2.

and make it more comfortable for leaders of tax-supported bodies to carry out their responsibilities."

$9,085 in fines is distributed

Fines totaling $9,085 have been distributed to Quad-City area cities and village as part of $96,547 in fines collected by Madison County Circuit Court during February. Circuit Clerk Willard V. "Butch" Portell has announced.

Granite City received $7,215, Madison $1,390, Venice $160 and Pontoon Beach $320, according to the report. The county government received $18,950 and the state got $35,244 for fines on overweight trucks.

Alton received the most among cities with fines totaling $11,168 collected during February.

New England Boiled Dinner

1 corned-beef brisket (about 5 pounds)
4 peppercorns
Pinch of thyme
8 small white onions, peeled
1 can (1 lb.) 4 oz. beans

1 small head of cabbage cut in quarters
1 bay leaf
8 small potatoes, pared
8 small carrots, scraped

(1) Place meat in large kettle with peppercorns, bay leaf, and thyme; cover with cold water.
(2) Bring slowly to boiling; skin, if needed, reduce heat; simmer, covered, 3 1/2 to 4 hours, or until meat is tender when pierced with 3-tined fork.
(3) About 45 minutes before meat is done, add potatoes, onions and carrots to kettle; cook 25 minutes; then place cabbage wedges on top of vegetables; continue to cook about 20 minutes longer, or until vegetables are tender.
(4) Just before vegetables are done, cut corned beef in quarters and add.
(5) To serve, remove vegetables from kettle with slotted spoon; drain well; place meat on heated platter; arrange these vegetables and beans around it. Serves 6.
